

Year: 2009

Vol.: 74

Fasc.: 1-2

Title: On the density of integers with consecutive divisors

Author(s): Katalin Gyarmati

The density of positive integers which have divisors of the form $x(x + 1)$ with $x \in \mathbb{Z}$ and $x \geq K$ is near $1/K$ as K tends to infinity. Different generalizations of this result are also studied.

Address:

Katalin Gyarmati
Alfréd Rényi Institute of Mathematics
H-1364 Budapest, P.O.B. 127
Hungary